NEW YORK – VIENNA – ISTANBUL

Şinasi Bozatlı

born in 1962 in Ankara, is supported in his artistic ambitions by his parents, who enable his studies at Gazi University. He moves to Vienna in 1986 and makes it his home. In 1992, he enrolls at the Vienna University of Applied Arts for further studies in painting and the graphic arts with Prof. Oswald Oberhuber, which he successfully completes in 1996.

In the beginning, classical painting still has a formative influence on him and haunts his work in a rhythmic, figurative objectivity and three-dimensional cohesion. For a lengthy period, Bozatlı engages with the four-thousand-year-old culture of the Indo-European people of the Hittites. He finds the themes for his pictures in the surviving writings and reliefs of this archaic culture.

From 1995 on, the human outlines are replaced by abstract forms and merge with the background. Bozatlı works his way towards a new, for him very significant cycle in his painting. He produces abstract geometrical forms, semi-configurations, circles, the so-called “concatenations”.

After the turn of the twentieth century, Bozatlı yet again alters his imagery. His brush stroke becomes more open, but the composition denser, lending the picture strength and expressiveness. In a series entitled “Colours of Life”, the “new” pictures feature swaths of colour – colour tracks – onset in dark shades and hopefully attenuating. So the former “concatenations” have now become connections. The stony, earthy colours of the early phase have matured into thrilling chords of colour, and atmospheric, turbulent life forms have fled. Bozatlı attempts in this cycle to tame dark visions and to let a positive glimmer shine through.

Between 2006 and 2009, Bozatlı goes a step further in his painting. The circles and contours are dissipated and dissolved into flashing molecules, which explode into streaks or vaporise across the plane surface. He tackles the confrontation with speed in the series “Movements”, yet the configuration of the circle continues to exist subliminally, as if embodying Bozatlı’s painterly fingerprint.

A further transformation in Bozatlı’s work starts in 2009 with the series “(e)motions”. In this phase, he tends once more towards a bonding of the elements. This imagery consists of wide-spreading, richly contrasting spots of colour or impressionistic worlds that he challenges to be fathomed. The chains and rings are straightened in part and depicted as a kind of textile weave.

The series “Mozart Vibrations” produced in 2018/19 shows the artist surrendering totally to the guiding force of music, and he paints inspired by the sounds of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. Thick swaths of colour, but also elegantly composed sprays of paint coupled with dynamic forms mark this scintillating cycle.

Bozatlı’s pictures are in private collections, foundations and collections in Austria, Germany, England, France, Italy, Liechtenstein, the Netherlands, Turkey, Malta, Switzerland, Slovenia, Slovakia, South Africa, South Korea, Japan and the USA. They have been acquired by the Museum of Modern Art in Ankara and also by the Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Turkey. Furthermore, works can be found in the ownership of the Austrian National Bank, the Landesmuseum Burgenland, the Landesmuseum of Lower Austria, the Federal Chancellery and the Museum of the City of Vienna.

Şinasi Bozatlı lives and works in Vienna, Istanbul and Long Island.
